

Liz Sater, Economic Development Project Coordinator

Liz was born in San Antonio, TX and lived in San Antonio and Dallas until High School. The move from Texas took her to Martinsville, VA where she graduated from High School. She then attended VA Tech, which included studying for one quarter at Instituto de Mangold in Madrid, Spain.

Liz has been married for 38 years to Hyman Sater who is a partner in Wood's Menswear in Downtown Danville. She has two grown sons and three adorable grandchildren.

She has resided in Danville for over 30 years and all of her adult work experience (other than volunteer) has been on Main Street. She has worked at the following: Sater's Mens Shop, H. Sater & Sons, Ltd., Arts & Humanities and Rippe's. She joined the Downtown Danville Association (DDA) in February 2002 as an Administrative Assistant. She became the Interim Director in October 2003 and was named the Executive Director in April 2004, serving as VA Main Street Manager.

In March 2007 Liz joined the City of Danville Community Development Department as a Redevelopment Projects Assistant and joined the Economic Development Department in March 2008. She currently serves on the Board of Directors for the City Beautiful Committee and the Dan River Hospitality and Travel Association. She is also a 2005 graduate of the Danville Pittsylvania County Chamber of Commerce Leadership Southside program.
